

www.sequentialtart.com

Torso: A True Crime Graphic Novel

by Brian Michael Bendis and Marc Andreyko
Image Comics (www.imagecomics.com)
<http://read.sequentialtart.com/?torso>

You'll enjoy this if you like: Untouchables
While Al Capone rots in prison, Eliot Ness becomes the new Safety Director of Cleveland, where he must match wits against the nation's first serial killer.

Rival

by Brien Cardello and Ollie Drac
Tears Like Water Productions
PO Box 140388, Brooklyn, NY 11214
tearslikewater@aol.com

You'll enjoy this if you like: The Crow
After a city's superhero dies, his girlfriend learns that he's returned from the dead. But this new Rival is more violent. Is this the same man or someone else entirely?

Scene Of The Crime

by Ed Brubaker, Michael Lark, and Sean Phillips
DC/Vertigo (www.dccomics.com)
<http://read.sequentialtart.com/?sceneofthecrime>
You'll enjoy this if you like: Chinatown, Ross MacDonald's books

Ex-cop Jack Herriman works as a private investigator with his ex-crime-scene-photographer uncle. A case to locate a missing girl leads to a web of deceit involving murder, drugs, arson and a mysterious cult.

Kane

by Paul Grist
Dancing Elephant Press
PO Box 2362, Wells, BA5 1YQ, England
You'll enjoy this if you like: Hill Street Blues

Detective Kane returns after a 6-month leave of absence for shooting his corrupt former partner. He deals with antagonism from his department, a new partner, the local crime lord, a bunny-impersonator, and a TV superhero.

From Hell

by Alan Moore and Eddie Campbell
Eddie Campbell/Top Shelf Comix
www.eddiecampbellcomics.com/fromhell/
<http://read.sequentialtart.com/?fromhell>

You'll enjoy this if you like: From Hell, Jack The Ripper
Drawing on known facts and marrying them with observations on the geography and occult history of London, Alan Moore writes the definitive fictionalized account of the Ripper murders and creates a violent and horrific classic.

Recommended Reading List: Crime

Murder ... conspiracy ... good cops and bad cops, and more than a few dead bodies. Good crime stories are hard to resist, and these comics have them in spades. If you're a fan of films like Untouchables or From Hell, you can't get enough of NYPD Blue or Law And Order, or you like your movies with more than a touch of noir, check out these comics.

Jinx

by Brian Michael Bendis
Image Comics
www.jinxworld.com
<http://read.sequentialtart.com/?bendis>

You'll enjoy this if you like: Mickey Spillane, Humphrey Bogart
Two con artists and a female bounty hunter each have a clue that will lead them to three million dollars. But they've got to keep from getting killed – or killing each other – along the way!

The Evil Eye

by Richard Sala
Fantagraphics (www.fantagraphics.com)
<http://read.sequentialtart.com/?theevileye>

You'll enjoy this if you like: gothic crime noir
Judy Drood, Girl Detective, faces a creepy and funny cast of characters, including hooligans led by a hand puppet.

The Fall

by Ed Brubaker and Jason Lutes
Drawn & Quarterly (www.drawnandquarterly.com)
<http://read.sequentialtart.com/?thefall>

You'll enjoy this if you like: film noir
Kirk and June get to know each other through a number of secretive circumstances. When Kirk finds a mysterious package, he finds that it leads him to a murdered woman.

Chase

by D. Curtis Johnson and J. H. Williams III
DC Comics (www.dccomics.com)
<http://read.sequentialtart.com/?chase>

You'll enjoy this if you like: The X-Files
Agent Chase works for the Department of Extranormal Operations, whose motto is "absolute power corrupts absolutely." She has an attitude of disdain and paranoia toward metahumans, but everything begins to change as she finds out her family's secrets.

Whiteout

by Greg Rucka and Steve Lieber
Oni Press (www.onipress.com)
<http://read.sequentialtart.com/?whiteout>

You'll enjoy this if you like: Tom Clancy novels, Fargo
US Marshall Carrie Stetko is trapped in Antarctica with a small group of people, each hiding their own deep, dark secrets. When someone commits murder, she has to rely only on herself to capture the killer.

YOU CAN FIND THESE GREAT BOOKS AT:

Mars Import

www.marsimport.com

Emerald City Comics

2475-L McMullen Booth Road

Clearwater, FL 33759

(727) 797-0664

www.emeraldcitycomics.com